

Little Minesweepers Have Valor Of Cruisers—But Not the "Fun"

LONDON, May 13.—(C.P.)—They have all the valor of a battle cruiser, these little minesweepers that keep the seaways clear for commerce but they don't have nearly as much fun.

The Admiralty pays tribute to these small ships in an official booklet called His Majesty's Minesweepers.

Many Canadians serve in this end of the naval service, men such as Lieut. "Mac" Ruttan of Winnipeg and Fort William, who won the D.S.C. for his minesweeping work in Tobruk. Another is Lieut. Robert MacMillan of Charlottetown, D.S.C. and bar, who for a time was port minesweeping officer at Tobruk.

Yanks on Guard In Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, May 12.—(AP)—United States troops were placed on guard at railway stations, bridges and other strategic rail points in Puerto Rico tonight following temporary suspension of all railroad traffic in the face of a strike threat. A 48-hour suspension began at noon by order of Governor Rexford Tugwell. A strike had been scheduled to start at that time.

Hitler's Transportation Systems Crippled by Heavy Aerial Blows

LONDON, May 13.—(C.P.)—Allied air attacks have crippled Hitler's deteriorating transportation systems in such an extent that long lines of locomotives stand at the few repair shops still available, a ministry of economic warfare spokesman said last night.

The repair shops at Hohen have been knocked out, the spokesman said, and Germany's second largest locomotive shop in Berlin has been idle for three or four months.

Speedy British Mosquitoes shot up five locomotives in a daylight sweep over France yesterday.

Axis Casualties Exceed 600,000

LONDON, May 13.—(C.P.)—The whole North African campaign was estimated here last night to have cost the Germans and Italians more than 600,000 men in killed, wounded or captured since the first Axis thrust toward the Nile nearly three years ago in the final debacle on Cap Bon. The losses in the last stages probably will total more than 300,000, 150,000 captured and at least 50,000 killed and wounded.

Canadian Pilot Awarded D.F.C. For Daring on Big Berlin Raid

OTTAWA, May 13.—(C.P.)—A 30-year-old pilot who disregarded a concentration of searchlights and a hail of anti-aircraft fire to drop his bombs accurately during the heavy raid on Berlin the night of March 29-30 has been awarded the D.F.C. Air Force headquarters announced last night. He is Pte. L. Alan French.

Avant was captain of a bomber which was caught by a concentration of searchlights just before reaching its target. Because his bomb aimer, Pte. Sgt. La Kennedy, of Portage la Prairie, Man., needed straight and level flight for accuracy Avant held to his course.

TO ALL PERSONNEL OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY—

The contribution which you have made and are making to the ultimate success of our arms is one of which you can be justifiably proud.

But before we can say our effort, as individuals or as a Service, is a total one, we must all contribute materially as well. The men and women of the Service realize better than most the urgency of a never-ceasing flow of ships, equipment, and equipment to men victory over.

The Fourth Victory Loan provides us with an opportunity to make our contribution complete. It is a financial challenge which must not go unanswered by the Navy. A very large proportion of our personnel have already subscribed. Most gratifying indeed have been the reports from the men on the ships fighting the battle of the North Atlantic. In almost every instance they have exceeded their quotas. Officers and ratings of the RCNVR also exceed their objectives some days ago. But the final measure of our participation in the loan should be nothing short of a subscription from every last officer and rating "to help 'back the attack'".

I confidently appeal to all of you to subscribe to the very limit of your resources in the furtherance of the trust of the "Guardianship of the Seas" which has been reposed in us.

VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN

Prior to the inauguration of the Fourth Victory Loan Campaign I asked for the co-operation of all Commanders to demonstrate that the Army, though trained to attack, could and would "Back the Attack".

I am more than gratified with the fine results that have already been achieved. But it is not enough to rest on our laurels with the knowledge that we have exceeded, by a substantial amount, the quota set by the National War Finance Committee.

My hope is that every man and woman in the Army will participate in our effort.

I now ask for your continued active and personal interest in exploiting to the full our initial success.

In the words of the song hit of "The Army Show" — "Let's make a job of it this time".

Chief of the General Staff.

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL DEFENCE FOR AIR

OFFICE OF CHIEF OF THE AIR STAFF
OTTAWA
May 14th, 1943.

To all ranks of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Home and Overseas:

Your response to Canada's 4th Victory Loan has been splendid. With the loan at the half-way mark, subscriptions so far have exceeded the total purchases made by the Royal Canadian Air Force during the entire period of the last Victory Loan. In all commands, results have been most encouraging.

But the present objective of one billion one hundred million dollars is a vastly greater amount than that which was sought last time and it is a goal which is a challenge to all Canadians. As Chief of the Air Staff, I am confident that every officer, airman and airwoman of the R.C.A.F. will meet this challenge and support the 4th Victory Loan to the limit.

I ask you to subscribe to the loan not only out of your savings, but with whatever proportion of your future pay you are able to assign. This may require careful stewardship, but there is such marked need for full and most serious support of the loan that all Air Force personnel, I am sure, will seek their living budgets most carefully to ascertain how they can achieve some added economy which would enable them to participate.

When the subscription lists are closed I hope that every member of the R.C.A.F. may be in a position to say with pride "I brought a bond. I am in this war with dollars as well as deeds".

John D. Galt
(L. J. Broadbent)
Air Marshal
Chief of the Air Staff.

How about You?

That the Commanding Officers suggest "that every man and woman in the Armed Forces will participate in the purchase of Victory Bonds to the utmost of their ability" is a challenge to all of us. We can do no less.

The men in the Navy, the Army, the Air Force know from true experience that they cannot defeat the enemy with their bare hands. They know the job will need the backing of every dollar we can put into this fight. They will not spare their lives—we must not spare our dollars.

Don't delay—don't even hesitate—phone Victory Loan Headquarters right now—today, and tell them that you will take another Bond. If you haven't the cash your Bank will help you or the Victory Loan salesman will arrange for you to buy the additional Bonds on the Instalment Plan. Sign on the dotted line—Act now.

YOUR home is a vital factor in Canada's war effort. It is good patriotism and sound sense to protect and repair your house and property for replacements are hard to get. Many building supplies are difficult or impossible to obtain, yet there are sufficient supplies of Sherwin-Williams Paints in your dealer's store, to preserve your property against deterioration.

You have to stay home more because of war conditions—so why not use this extra leisure time to make your house more attractive and valuable? Using Sherwin-Williams Paints is a double economy because they beautify as well as protect.

Yankees Lose First Game

Of West Trip to White Sox

CHICAGO, May 13.—(AP)—New York Yankees, after romping over most of their eastern foes in the American League, were ambushed Wednesday in their first crack in the west and beaten 2-1 in 10 innings by Chicago White Sox.

The mainpings in Chicago's victory were pitcher Johnny Humphries, who hurled six hitless innings, and first baseman Joe Judge, who drove home both White Sox runs.

Ernie Rothman, winner of three games without a setback previously, broke through this barrier. In the eighth he struck out the Yankees' catcher, and in the ninth he drove home the winning run with a single.

Chicago's victory was the first since the team's arrival in the west. The White Sox had won their first game in the west, a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Yankees' loss was their first since they had won their first game in the west, a 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

NEW YORK, May 13.—The war-farred world of more than a mile from "trailhead" to racetrack already has resulted in mutual handles of $995,056 and $823,366 for the first two days at Belmont park, somewhat off the million-and-a-quarter daily average of the recent Jamaica meeting.

Meade Appeals to N.Y. Commission

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—Don Meade, recently denied a riding license by the Jockey Club (New York) has appealed to the New York State Racing Commission and his case is expected to be heard Friday.

Meade, one of the country's ranking jockeys, was not down last fall on a charge of collusion in a handi-cap race at the Jamaica race track when his opponent was continued until Dec. 31. When he applied for a license on April 14 the Jockey Club turned him down.

Slide Rule Wins Belmont Feature
NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—W. E. Hoising Slide Rule, third in the Kentucky Derby, yesterday ran away from a field of secondarily three-year-olds in the 43rd Stakes at Belmont Park.

Coming from last place over a track deep in slush, the dark chestnut of Stacks hit the front in the eighth, in front of William Woodward's Bossier, who took the place by half a length over Treasurer Martin's Bankrupt, another of Coast Fleet's derby victims.

Carrying top-weight of 132 pounds and piloted by Conn McCreary, Slide Rule galloped through the seven furlongs in 1:24 1/4 to pick up a $5,000 win, but pay check from the field of 10.

Sir John Drummond, 81, a ship owner who lost his fleet in two vessels in the last war, died at his home, Sussex.

They'll Give You a Fresh Start in Life

THIS is a Nazi court. Maybe none of us will ever have to face one . . . we hope. They specialize in giving people fresh starts in life. All that you've ever had . . . your home, your bank account, the very clothes off your back, your family, even your self-respect . . . they take from you.

They start you off fresh, with nothing. They don't even leave you the opportunity you have now.

Millions of people have gotten fresh starts at their hands . . . millions of human beings who have worked and scrimped and saved all their lives for a little comfort, a mere modicum of happiness and security. Millions of men and women in Poland and Russia and France. Millions like US.

But this will never happen here . . . we hope. This is only something that happens to other people . . . we hope.

Yet how effective can mere "hope" be in keeping this from happening here?

Hope can't carry a rifle. Hope can't build a tank. Hope can't finance a war.

It takes action and human effort. Action from ALL of us. Human effort from ALL of us.

For this is a people's war. This is a war in which we, the people, win or lose . . . in which we, the people, earn the right to live our own lives or to lose them. And you—and we who sign this advertisement—ARE the people.

There is no time to wait to be TOLD what to do. EACH of us must FIND OUT what to do and to DO it.

For with every minute, every precious minute, the decision grows closer. Win or lose. Have or have not. Live or die.

Not just for the other fellow. For YOU!

Soviets Blast Nazi Attempts To Open Drive

By M. S. HANDLER

MOSCOW, May 13.—The Red air force was reported on a non-stop offensive today to disrupt any Nazi plans for a new offensive, fighting in the Litschansk sector of the Donets. A new more intense battle.

The Soviet mid-day communique said Russian troops had forced the Germans from one town in the Donets area and seized an important highway after killing 400 of the enemy in heavy fighting.

Large Soviet air forces, including divisions, reports indicated, and communication centres and railroad networks that feed the Donets from in heavy raids yesterday over a wide area.

The aerial offensive coincided with the start of a large-scale movement of enemy reinforcements and supplies, reports indicated, and a qualified opinion here was that the Germans had intended to strike to crush the Red Army before it could launch a second drive in Europe.

Besides hitting the Soviet-Bryanek junctions, which serve as nerve centres for big German armies poised there to strike northward against Moscow or southward against the Caucasus, the air formations struck the Donets airfields.

German fighting in the Donets

Basin was exceedingly stubborn with areas changing hands time and again, reports said.

final message to Hitler, who had commanded him to fight to the bitter end.

Von Arnim, a typical officer of Anderson, the British First Artance by troops of the 4th In-

OPERATOR'S MESSAGE

His radio operator, who sent the final message to Hitler in reply to vain urgings by Hitler and Mussolini, had refused to give himself up to any troops except the British Eighth Army, which he picked him up today.

British patrols found Von Arnim

west of Hammamet in the St. Marie

It was in this sector that the Axis army had fought out longest at Or-

Best of Reichswehr

Some of Hitler's Toughest Fighting Men Are Prisoners

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

Copyright, 1943, by British United Press

TUNIS, May 13.—Some of the finest fighting men

Adolf Hitler sent out to conquer the world jammed Tunisia's barbed wire prison pens today.

Appointed

These were remnants of some of Hitler's best legions, and they were not only crumpled but they were trampled under in three huge pensions guarded by tanky, grinning Allied soldiers.

BEST IN REICHSWEHR

These were men of the 90th German Light Division—probably the best in the Reichswehr—and of the 10th, 11th and 21st Panzers, who were related to give up Tunisia to the British and Americans in the last miles of the Axis Africa campaign.

The 90th figured in successes in Europe, received special desert training and appeared the brilliant Nazi maneuverers when Field

Marshal Rommel pulled them from the desert after their defeat, then lost to go to Tunisia.

Today they were more of a problem for the Allies than they were as fighters. The job of keeping them fed was enormous in this one area of 30,000. And they still had to be convinced the show was over.

ITALIANS JUST GRIN

"You've got to get it through their thick skulls," said one German. "They're ordered out around so long hard for them to realize they're coming home."

The Italians mostly just grinned.

The Axis troopers were of a kind of garb, the light yellow uniform of the German Army, the corps, shorts caught from the imperial. Many bronzed men had nothing but bathing suits, sun helmets and shoes.

As they were made to realize they were prisoners, they changed their clothes. Today they received an order from their army which considered themselves as prisoners. Thousands flung up their arms with a shout

"Seig Heil." They tried no "Heil

Hitler."

The young but tough Hermann

Goering Regiment, marked by special arm bands, still acted proud.

Early in August 1941, in front of Antioch, he was leading a platoon forward when he realized there was a gap on the flank and an enemy machine gun was firing at close range. He rushed forward 20 yards, attacked the machine gun nest, single-handed and shot three members of the crew. The others found him.

For rallying his comrades in attack shortly afterwards he was awarded the Military Medal.

present war on Aug. 26, 1940.

Increases in Other Crops
Are Indicated in First
Of Government Estimates

Estimates of intended acreages in Alberta this year indicate a 25 per cent reduction in wheat acreage, and at the same time, increases of 18 per cent in oats, 16 per cent in barley, and 55 per cent in flax. Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of agriculture, announced Thursday.

Doing Well

On the whole are a week or ten days over than last year's crop," MacMillan says. While some drought has been made in the south and central east sections of the province, and in the Peace River district, in the province as a whole only 40 per cent of the wheat has been sown, and 15 per cent of the coarse grains. Snow and rain, it is reported, has interrupted seeding and thinning operations.

Of the 2,000,000 acres of winter wheat grain left over from last fall, very little now remains to be threshed, good progress having been made in April. A few days' threshing is still to be done in the central eastern sections.

Very little damage to crops has occurred, Mr. MacMillan states in his report. Damage to the wheat is reported to be concentrated in the south and central east sections.

miners and flooding. Winter killing of alfalfa and clovers is "quite extensive" in the Peace River valley and in the Cude-Althabasca area.

Need supplies of cereals appear to be quite satisfactory, although the situation with respect to oats was never enough to make a considerable portion unsuitable for seed. Quantities of the premium quality of feed grade oats are quite limited, and of flax crop seed is scarce.

LT.-COL. H. B. Jamieson, officer commanding 3rd Battalion Edmonton Fusiliers, who telegraphed The Edmonton Bulletin on Thursday that personnel of the regiment were to be sent to the 4th Canadian Division to the Fourth Victory Loan. This is 200 per cent. of the regiment's quota. He asks in his telegram, "How is Edmonton doing?"

BUTTER PRODUCTION

While creamery butter production in the province for the January-April period has increased by 19 per cent over 1942, factory cheese production has been "disappointing" in Alberta, and all Canada. The cheese decrease is listed at 47 per cent.

Marked increases are also noted by the minister in the poultry and beekeeping industries. A reliable market and higher prices for eggs as well as an anticipated increase in demand for eating poultry is responsible for the upward trend of poultry activity. In the case of beekeeping, it is considered doubtful if all orders for package bees will be filled.

One-day Motifs For Kitchen Towels

By ALICE BROOKS

Monday

Remember those all-seeing drawings you did at a child's? The same idea is used in these kitchen towel motifs—with gay effect! A look for each weekday is performed by these merry kitchen, in simple outline style and large-day flow. Pattern 7341 contains a transfer pattern of six 4 1/2 inch motifs; list of materials needed; stitches.

To obtain this pattern send twenty cents in coins (stamp cannot be accepted) to Household Arts Dept., The Edmonton Bulletin, 60 Front Street, West, Toronto, Ont. Write plainly name, address and pattern number. Delivery of patterns may take longer than usual because of the heavy volume of mail.

Please allow a week or ten days for delivery.

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON—I attended the British War Relief luncheon yesterday and saw a number of people appointed in the afternoon.

One of the things brought to my attention recently is the effort which is being made to spread the observance of "Whit Sunday" on the first Sunday in June. This year it will fall on June 16th.

Canada, I think, first sponsored this day and it has already spread to a number of states and countries in our country. Many organizations—business, religious, civic and recreational—have cooperated to make it a day when handicapped people can be seen and heard. Homes will feel themselves specially remembered in their communities. Almost everyone has a handicapped person who can not leave his room, or his bed, or his chair.

These people rarely want sympathy. They strive in every way they know how to be useful in the world, to earn their own way if possible. Many of them have developed, because of their handicap, some very interesting ways of being of service to others. Nevertheless, few of them would deny, I think, that a little attention which shows that other people have thought of them means a great deal.

Perhaps, this year, this day will have a particularly poignant significance for a great many people, for every day that war goes on, we are adding to our casualty lists, and some of our boys may be absent in the future. They will want visitors, they will want suggestions, perhaps help in getting started in some new kind of work which is fitted to their particular capacity.

I have been thinking a good deal about these young men who are beginning to come into our military hospitals in considerable numbers. In spite of the fact that many of them will be able to continue to perform limited parts of the work of the armed forces, I have been wondering whether the congress and the executive departments involved might not make a survey to determine what would be most helpful to those men in making them useful in the future.

Many of them must have interrupted their education, and if they returned it at once they would find it almost impossible to find professions or occupations which they could carry through with ease in spite of their handicaps.

It would be a fine thing to do, something that would be done now instead of waiting until the war is over. Congress is the one body which, of course, can decide what is the best attitude on the part of the government in this situation. I am quite sure that they are already giving it much thought, but sometimes we think so long we do not act.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS Single Women Can Swap Dull Life for Services

Waves, WAACS, Factory Lines and Multiple Other War Jobs Afford Chance for Sheltered Doughter to Have "Fling"

When we see the WAVES and the WAACS swinging along the streets in their uniform, and the factory girls, wide-awake, competent business girls going to their jobs of merriment, we think God has the emancipation of women and forget that there are thousands upon thousands of helpless, hopeless women who are just as submerged now as their grandmothers were in the Victorian days.

These are the forgotten women whose life has passed by leaving them stranded on the shores of middle age. They have never made a fortune, and perhaps they lacked beauty to attract men, or perhaps they were too shy to make a man love them too tightly to their own strength. They had no special talents or gifts to point them to any career, and they fell between the stools of poverty and riches, belonging to families whose daughters did not have to be self-supporting, yet whose lives were edged with money to give them security for life.

DEPENDENT WOMEN

You know dozens of women like these. Miss Mamie and Miss Susan who have always lived at home with Mama and Papa, and Miss Mamie a little with the housework, and whom Mama will look into bed and dress and rub, and whom Papa will come in and kiss and tell her to go to bed. They have never known a minute's independence, or been permitted to do anything that was not told them how to do anything that had a marketable value.

A sad life, if it is dull one. If only it could have gone on forever. But Mother and Father died. They had lived up to their small income and Miss Mamie or Miss Susan were left with no money, and with which they were no more able to cope than they were to fight Joe Louis.

They had no idea how to get on. They were victims of poverty, love and the false pride of fathers who had no idea how to get on. But hereafter there has seemed no end to the world. It is a new independence, which is the base of all freedom and contentment in life.

They are now faced for jobs they were defeated by their own incompetence. They were merchants who sold their lack of education and experience and craftsmanship for a few dollars every week.

GIVES CHANCES TO FORGOTTEN WOMEN

But the war has changed all of that. It is giving these forgotten women their big chance to make something of themselves. It is something, do something, have something, and to fill their lives with the interests and pleasures of which they have only dreamed as well as to be of as vital service to their country as are its fighting men.

And what I want to say to Miss Mamie and Miss Susan, whether they are still at home, helping mother care, peace and make preparations for the future, or whether they are living off of unwilling relatives or friends is this: Realize that your big moment has come and seize it with both hands. Make your break for liberty, while the gate is open. Don't delay. Remember that you will never be 25 or 30 or 35 again, and if you are going to get anywhere, you must get going. If you wait, you will miss the boat.

All of the inhibitions that have kept thousands of able-bodied women from being of service to their country have been miraculously removed. You are now free to go to your getting a good job. The government and all the big war industries have set up training schools in which they will teach you craftsmanship in any line you select to follow. And when the day is over you will have a trade and I think action should be taken fairly quickly in the present situation.

McCoy Health Service

We like to think of the years from fifteen to thirty as the time of life when we are the healthiest and strongest, yet these are the very years when the greatest danger of acute appendicitis is in the number of people dying from this disease is highest. In the United States, which has a much higher rate of this disease than England, more than 100,000 people die from this preventable disease each year.

While one of the symptoms of appendicitis is a pain in the lower right hand side of the abdomen, the pain is due to an inflamed appendix, and is not due to obstruction of the intestines, colic, and even the pain from indigestion may be confused with a pain in the right side which begins in the lower right side and is not likely to come from an attack of appendicitis. It is a pain which for the first twenty-four hours is repeated every two hours, and later sets down at that localized point. The pain may be sharp and colicky in nature. In true appendicitis the pain is accompanied by tenderness and rigidity.

All degrees of inflammation may take place, ranging from those which are so mild as to be unimportant, to those which are severe. Generally the acute stage of the disease causes more pain than the chronic stage. One with chronic appendicitis may be troubled off and on with pain, with chronic and discomfort in the lower right hand region, which symptoms are made worse by strenuous exercise or jolting.

At the onset of the acute attack it is very important that all laxatives or cathartics be avoided. Instead, small enemas should be used every two hours to cleanse the colon. If the water is not retained, it may be advisable to use a warm water enema. Heat should be applied to the abdomen with hot water bottles, moist towels, or by treatment with the deep X-ray light. This heat treatment must be continued until the muscles are relaxed. Do not use heat over the appendix alone but apply it over the entire abdomen in order to get about a wider distribution of heat.

When you're just got to be ready in a minute, follow this rule. Tie your hair in a bun. You will not want to spread on cleaning cream over your face. Remove your hair from your face. Blend on foundation cream. Arrange your hair, pin on a net. Wash, cream, rouge, for cheeks. After this, face powder. Rub eye-brow pencils and lashes. A touch of cream on the eyelids. Once in a while with your lipstick. There you are—ready!

In past years, in the world championship Masters Individual tournament many a time out of the first 10 players were New Yorkers. But this year it was different. First position went to Alvin L. Roth of Washington, who is in New York for the time being. Philadelphia took second, fifth, sixth and seventh position, with Mrs. J. Solomon, Silver Spring, Md., John R. Crawford and Mrs. Benjamin M. Golder respectively. Richmond took third position with Mrs. J. E. Follins. Boston took fourth with Mrs. J. E. Follins.

If fresh shrimp are available and reasonable, use them. Otherwise buy a 7-ounce can of shrimp. You'll get your money's worth in protein, vitamins A and D, iodine and minerals.

To increase the protein content of your dinner, serve a lapin cream. The milk and 2 eggs add first-class protein. Brown rice or whole-grain bread will also increase the protein content of the meal.

SHRIMP RICE RING

(Serves 4)

One and one-half cups rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water.

or fortified margarine, watercress and grated raw carrot salad, zucchini pie, tea, milk.

Tomorrow's Menu

Eat the basic 4 every day!

Breakfast: Steamed rhubarb, oatmeal, raisin toast, butter, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Creamed codfish on rice ring, buttered beef with lemon, cold asparagus with mayonnaise, rice toast, butter, lapin cream pudding with sliced strawberries, berry sauce, tea, milk.

One mother found her 4-year-old obsessed with a desire to get at the root of her confusion about the many new babies in the neighborhood.

"Now mother," she said one day, plunking herself down in front of her mother and adopting an attitude of a child waiting for a story, "just right at the beginning and end of everything."

This precocious little mite had been born in the neighborhood, and her mother had been told something of the mechanics of "being born." But all of this did not satisfy her. It wasn't the very beginning and she knew it. She wanted to know what that beginning was.

Like all mothers this one could give and take everything except the father's part in conception. She could not bring herself to utter words that seemed to her to uncover so completely intimate a relationship.

Debunker Canaries

do not need teaching to sing

It is a common belief among canary breeders that these birds must be taught their songs. An experiment on twelve roller canaries, conducted by Prof. M. SALT CODFISH

Salt codfish has an old Canadian diet returning to favor. Soak the salt codfish in cold water to freshen it. Drain and flake. Make a cream sauce of butter or fortified margarine, flour and milk. Add the flaked codfish and cooked potato balls, and if desired, sliced hard-boiled eggs.

For a salt codfish menu, try this: Salt codfish, baked potatoes, butter or margarine menu: Meatless vegetable soup, creamed codfish with potatoes and eggs on toast, green beans, corn muffins, butter.

Your Baby And Mine

There never is a time when the mother feels her child is so much as enough to comprehend what she might be willing to tell her about sex.

When the girl is very young the mother is sure her explanations would be wasted. As the child gets older there springs up increasing reluctance to discuss such intimate subjects. So the handicaps to honest and realistic discussion grow with the child.

World News Highlights Presented in Picture Form.

Where Death Downed the Flying General

A searching party goes through the wreckage of the B-24 bomber in which Lieut. Gen. Frank M. Andrews, flying commander of all U.S. forces in the European Theatre of operations, and 13 others met their deaths. Plane crashed into barren Iceland mountainside when Gen. Andrews was on an inspection tour.

First of Five, Launched by Quints

Launched with Annette, of the Dionne quintuplets cracking the traditional bottle on her bow, the S.S. Watson Ferris slides down the ways at Superior, Wis. The ship was one of five freighters at whose mass launching the quintuplets officiated.

Capture of Tunis Means Freedom to These Men

American and British troops, released from an Italian prison ship, come ashore at beach at Tunis after the Allies captured the town. The prison ship was caught in the harbor by the swift advance of the Allied forces. The flag stuck in at the beach is the French Tricolor with the Cross of Lorraine—symbol of the Free French forces.

Windsors Arrive in New York

In the United States in connection with business matters for the Bahama Islands, of which he is Governor, H.R.H. the Duke of Windsor is pictured as, with the Duchess, he arrived in New York from West Palm Beach, Fla.

Street Fighting in Tunisia

As the Allied armies entered Tunis, Axis forces still in the city put up resistance from snipers' nests and strong points in buildings, but were quickly mopped up. In the photo above, an Allied tank is seen hurling shells at point blank range into a half-built block of flats where some of the foe were holed up. They soon marched out—hands up.

Salute to Victory

In his North African headquarters, Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Commander-in-Chief of Allied forces in North Africa, stands at salute before three flags he has served well—the British Union Jack, the Stars and Stripes and his own red, white-starred, general's flag.

Generals Eisenhower and Bradley Near Bizerte

Somewhere near Bizerte, a soldier takes apart a "leaping Lena"—a Nazi anti-personnel mine—for General Eisenhower (center) and Major General Omar N. Bradley (right) commander of the American Second Corps. When disturbed, "leaping Lena" leaps to a level of about four feet and explodes lethal charges in all directions.

Tunisians Hail the Conquering Heroes

Although occasional snipers' bullets zinged in the air and Axis destruction of supply depots brought recurrent explosions, hysterically happy inhabitants of Tunis disregarded danger and thronged the streets, dancing and cheering the arrival of the conquering Allies. In the photo above, an enthusiastic crowd hails an Allied jeep entering the ancient gates of the city, to shower congratulations on the victors.

This Way Out—of Tunis and the War

In the photo above, one of the first received showing Allied forces in captured Tunis. Axis prisoners are being marched away, with an Allied tank dominating the scene.

Inspects Bombers

Because a close friend was killed in the Solomons, Glis Marie O'Neill of Wyandotte, Mich., turned up a career at a New York model to continue working at the Ford Willow Run bomber plant.

One of Britain's most vital "secret weapons" was disclosed when the Air Ministry told about the weird-looking plane pictured above. It is a Wellington bomber, equipped with an electric coil hoop which sets up a magnetic field. Flying only 100 feet above the water, the plane, through this field, exploded the German magnetic mines which, in the winter of 1938-1940, were taking such a frightening toll of British shipping.

Ont. Election Depends Upon War Progress

TORONTO, May 12.—(CP)—Harry C. Nixon, leader of the Ontario Liberal party, said today that as far as he is concerned a provincial election in June depends on whether arrangements for peace have been made, and whether the Canadian Army overseas is in action at that time.

Interviewed by telephone at his home at St. George, Ont., near Brantford, the recently-elected liberal leader said:

"If Canadian troops are actively engaged, people would want to see an election and I would not want to be responsible for bringing one on. I also would have to get the best advice possible in determining the issue."

TALKS WITH CONANT
Mr. Nixon declined comment on a conference he is reported to have had with Gen. Conant, chief of the War Relocation Authority. The conference, it is said, was arranged by a "mutual friend" and the Premier is reported to have told Mr. Nixon that he will resign next Monday or Tuesday. The resignation would pave the way for Mr. Nixon to become premier.

Speculation on possible changes in the cabinet when Mr. Nixon becomes premier, centre around the names of Eric Galt, M.P., M.P.P. for Hamilton, Norfolk, and Grey-Owen, Ontario, and M.P. for Grey South. Both are former members of the cabinet.

It was also reported that Hon. Arthur Meighen, M.P., might be appointed to head the House of Commons.

Africa Prisoners Exceed Japs' Total

TORONTO, May 12.—(CP)—Lt. Gen. Warburton, chief of the British Commonwealth Forces in Africa, said yesterday that the Allies have won material from the Germans and Italians, more than the Japanese have taken in the Pacific from the British, Dutch and Americans together.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Women's Canadian Council of Toronto, the United Kingdom had, so far, carried the biggest load of any of the United Nations if the effort by land, sea and air and the duration of that effort were taken into account.

Mr. Warburton paid warm tribute to the fighting forces of the United States, Canada, the British, Indians, India, the colonies and "those very gallant" troops who have kept on fighting with their courage undiminished.

He spoke warmly in a brief interview of the high morale of the Canadian troops in Britain, and of the powerful striking force they had become.

Among arriving troops from overseas were Brig. C. B. Chisholm, M.C., director of the Canadian Army, and Major-General E. J. Smellie, who has been the Canadian Army Nursing Service.

Essen Civilians Being Evacuated To Escape Raids
STOCKHOLM, May 12.—(AP)—The German city of Essen has been evacuated by R.A. because the all persons not employed in war plants there must be evacuated, the Eastern National Zeitung declares.

An issue of this newspaper, dated May 3, reaching Essen, reported that 400 persons were killed and many seriously injured in the last raid on the city. It also reported that casualties were that small, the newspaper said, because the great children had moved from the city earlier.

Canadian, U.S. Relations Said World Example

KINGSTON, Ont., May 12.—(CP)—Canada and the United States have established "a relationship absolutely unique" in international relations and "we can be pointed to as a perfect example of what can be done and could be in world politics," Hon. Leighton McArthur, Canadian minister to Washington, said here yesterday.

In an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian Club, the minister said that the location at which he had conferred upon his honorary degree, Mr. McArthur said, was a good example of the Canadian membership in the British Commonwealth to the Dominion's growth as an American nation.

WORLDWIDE BASIS
"We must prove it on the map of the world," Mr. McArthur said, "on a national basis, or even on the basis of regional cooperation, whether they are those of the British Commonwealth or Pan-American."

DARK JUNGLES

By JOHN C. FLEMING AND LOIS EBY

CHAPTER XXVI

LILA had broken with him! She was going home! As he showed, Barry wondered if the impact of the shock just hadn't hit him yet. Six months ago—three months ago such a catastrophe would have knocked him for a goal. They had been engaged for two years, waiting to marry until his business was a little more secure and they could buy a place out near her folks estate.

"We'll wait a while now and then start out right," Lila had always said. Somehow, in Lila's charming, perfumed background, it had seemed right and logical. But down here in the jungle, natural instincts had a way of showing up in brutal relief. Quicker now the same traits that seemed like wisdom and discrimination in one civilization, could be rudimentary, ruthless self-preservation in another.

She would have him trade his own safety for failure in a mission that might mean the lives of thousands on the battle front. She couldn't understand that, even if he lost, he had to give the job the best he had. He couldn't live with himself in that comfortable house they had picked if he went home now.

And she would never change that. That was the thing which made this putting them in the jungle available. They would have been happy as long as their lives were moving in the charming, perfect pattern she had worked out for them. But she could never fit in a new pattern.

The challenge of meeting change had always worked as an elixir in Barry Fielding. The thought of a lifetime fighting change instead of going eagerly to meet it, was deadening.

Even his meeting with Lila had back to town. She'd be interested to hear how his big job came out. He told her he would. And he had a good trip. Then he turned to the head toward the jungle, feeling as if he had just walked out of a barred door that had been closing slowly upon him.

As he urged the nimble little beast along the jungle path this morning, he could remember faintly how differently it had all looked yesterday: blurred and hostile, toward the rising mist of his fever. There were two forks he must remember. As he came upon the first of them he checked carefully with his memory of the first trip and his fuzzy picture of yesterday.

For hours he rode. His anxiety and impatience to find Allison growing with each mile into the heart of the jungle. He knew he had stopped her, she was safe. On the other hand, he knew she was still angry with him. He reached the second fork. He dismounted to give his hard-pushed mule a break and to check his way carefully. He didn't dare take the wrong path in his impatience.

It was then he heard a faint rustle of undergrowth. He was being tracked. He pulled his mule back into the shelter of a tree and waited, gun in hand. The rustling was nearer. He could hear the sound of twigs cracking under the foot of the intruder.

And then the form leaped into the open trail and ran toward him. With a gasp of relief, Barry stepped out to meet him. It was Allison!

"Where's Allison?" Barry cried, he called hastily. "It's a good thing you're still around," he told me. "I told Barry of the holding and capture at dawn. Stubbornly he insisted their capture had been quicker."

"All right, let's go," said Barry tersely.

Silently the Indian turned and led the way. For an hour they tramped through a winding half-trail. Then Tony halted, finger on lips. And Barry saw the small white circle in the clearing.

"That's what I call a real hide-out," he muttered.

Leaving the mule at some distance, they crept nearer. There were two large logs near the half-dug camp fire before the thicket. They kept them in sight until Tony had pointed about the clearing. He reported Barry's Indian was gone but the two on guard.

It was the work of a minute to creep up to the sleeping natives and with quick, carefully delivered blows at the base of their skulls knocked them out. Barry took from the belt of one the small knotted thing. The second unlocked the door of the hut.

With hated breath and hammering heart he swung open the door. Would Allison be there?

City Man Heads Alberta Masons

CALGARY, May 13.—(CP)—A two-day golden anniversary celebration of Royal Arch Masons of Alberta opened in Calgary yesterday with hundreds of delegates attending. They included a special delegation from Cuthbert, Mon., and others from British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

The day's proceedings included registration at Central Masonic Temple, election of officers and a banquet in the evening.

E. G. Killen, of Edmonton, was elected grand first principal of the Alberta chapter.

Other officers elected were: Second grand principal, F. J. Hargrave, of Calgary; third grand principal, J. C. Cumberland, of Pincher Creek; grand treasurer, T. K. Jeffrey, Calgary; grand scribe, E. C. A. MacPherson, Calgary; grand secretary, M. D. Price, Calgary; grand principal secretary, J. L. Innes, Calgary; grand scribe, N. B. Williams, Calgary.

Elected to the executive committee were: H. G. Lewis, E. F. Bentley, R. C. Lankin and Alex. Morris, all of Calgary.

During the banquet tribute was paid to the close ties of friendship between Canada and the United States.

Getting Around

Continued from Page Nine—This content did not follow the laws of trade laws, nor was it then by geography and climate.

Two competing trans-continental rail systems that were tottering on the brink of bankruptcy prior to 1939 were poised to meet on an outstanding part of the east-west development fully.

The naturalists point to the fact that birds and animals move north and south and not east and west. The main water transport systems of Canada and the U.S. are north-south systems. Even the mighty St. Lawrence is a north-south waterway proposition if you study a good map.

The airplane and the Alaska Highway have come to the aid of nature.

While longer work days may be the order in war plants the very opposite is true in non-producing most commercial concerns. Because of a shortage of help and in some cases a growing shortage of goods work days are being shortened in many light business establishments.

Many eating establishments, that formerly remained open all night, are closing at midnight, at 1 a.m. and some are operating on an 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. basis.

Lt. Gen. Kenneth Anderson, commanding British 1st Army.

AFRICA has been expurgated of the giant ulcer of Nazism and Fascism. The Germans and the Italians have been pushed from the continent into the sea . . . they have been made to "face up to and endure a first-class Dunkirk" even as Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery promised in his recent message to his men.

This day will go down in history, even as July 18, 1918, as the turning-point in the war, the opening chords of the Allies' Triumphal March. As the German might began to falter and give in the fourth year of the last Great War . . . so it is beginning to creak and groan under the Allied pressure now, the fourth year of this war. And the Axis collapse in Africa is prelude to a grand collapse that will herald final and complete victory, not only in Africa but in Europe, in Asia and the Australian environs.

Africa no longer is a distant unknown region . . . it is hallowed ground where our own kin fought and died while others lived to avenge them and make of their sacrifice "Victory".

Montgomery, Anderson, Eisenhower, Alexander, Coningham, Cunningham, Freyberg . . . all are household names to stand for gallantry, courage and splendid leadership. The forces which they lead, the British Eighth and First Armies, the American Forces, the Fighting French and the supporting air and sea forces likewise have created for themselves a legend of great bravery and downright "grit".

They have done a glorious job and have defeated the enemy in Africa . . . but they will not be satisfied until he is beaten to his knees on every front.
